Butter Rationing Ordered in Canada

Suez to Singapore

INSTALMENT XIII
SPOTTED BY JAPANESE AIRCRAFT
At 1:20 p.m. a message was blinked from the Wales to us.
It said: "The Japanese have made an air attack on Kota Bharu which was not followed by landings. Major landing planes miles north of Singapore. Little is known of enemy naval forces in vicinity. It is believed that Kongo is only capital ship likely to be met. There are reported three Japanese heavy cruisers and a number of destroyers likely to be met."

I said to the flag deck officer: "A capital ship, three cruisers and some destroyers? That's a fleet we're going to face, eh? Lieutenant, how about calling a taxi to take me back to Singapore?"

He laughed. "Oh, but they are Japanese. There's nothing to worry about."

Another message just came from the Wales giving further details. "An Akagi type, Kato type and Zintu type cruiser have been reported."

I checked up on those, One first-class heavy cruiser and two second-class cruisers.

The Repulse has never been in action, the men told me. The closest was off Norway when three German planes dropped eighteen bombs, some pretty close, but the Repulse didn't fire a shot.

"We didn't fire at their approach," one officer told me. "because we were expecting English planes. Afterwards the Jerries flew over the ship."

This ship has travelled fifty-three thousand miles in the last two and a half years of the war and has never been in action, and all the men are extremely keen for something to happen.

STRANGE FEELING
I slept for an hour this afternoon about 3:30 for tea. It is a strange feeling, realizing that you are so close to action. There is no way of avoiding it and no particular way for me to get ready for it. Writing last letters seems futile.

If we have been spotted, the expectation is the destroyer or cruiser will be sent to meet them.

3 CITY BLOCKS IN QUEBEC ARE SWEEP BY FIRE

QUEBEC CITY, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Three city blocks in downtown Quebec City are ablaze in the city's worst fire in many years.
The majority of the burning buildings are warehouses and small factories.
The fire has been reported, and no early estimates of damage are available.

In Missing Plane

For North Africa Forces

LONDON, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Dispatches from Madrid late today said that Marshal Rommel has appeared to Adolf Hitler for reinforcements to help keep the German toehold in North Africa. The dispatches also said that an Axis column of 150 ships is moving in southern French ports. The London Daily Mail's Madrid correspondent reports that General Erwin Rommel was in the plane for reinforcements.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The German Afrika Korps retreating at an average rate of 15 miles a day, now stands at the edge of Tunisia, and British military observers doubted whether Marshal Erwin Rommel now would be able to make a stand anywhere east of Tunisia.
Advanced reports of the British Eighth Army are harassing the German Afrika Korps, the rear guard of which was reported to have been crushed at the battle of 175 miles west of El Agheir, in Tunisia. Military observers here were convinced that Rommel's plan was to abandon Tripoli to the British, and to retreat to the east, where he would be able to make a stand anywhere east of Tunisia.

C.P.A. Plane With 13 Aboard Missing in B.C.

VANCOUVER, Dec. 21.—(CP)—Keen-eyed pilots, hampered by fog, today searched for a C.P.A. plane along the coast. The plane was last seen on the coast of British Columbia, near the mouth of the Fraser River, where it was reported to have crashed.

Eight planes took part in the hunt, their only clue the fact that the missing aircraft had made its routine flight for landing instructions as it soared over the peaks of the Cascades at an altitude of 14,000 feet last night near the end of a three-hour flight from Interior Prince George, B.C.

The plane carried the C.P.A. control tower at Vancouver airport when it called back to give instructions to Capt. Ernest Kubicki, and his co-pilot, Capt. Bill Holland.

RUGGED TERRITORY
If the officers followed routine they would count in a landing, gradually dropping from their mountain-sealing altitude to sea level. This would place the plane in an area north or northeast of Vancouver.

Most of the territory is rugged and timbered. Sometimes planes are forced to land in a clearing, and have never been found after a difficult search.

The plane carried four ration flares and other emergency equipment. The search for the plane was begun yesterday afternoon.

The body was brought to the city by the highway and the neighbor, and the accident reported to the R.C.M.P.

According to the R.C.M.P. report, the plane was seen by a pilot who saw a rabbit and as the animal vanished the gun was placed in the air and fired, and the plane occupied the front seat.

Writer Says:

Russians Will Lift Siege of Stalingrad

The following dispatch is the first on-the-scene account written by an American reporter at the Stalingrad front. It was filed by Henry Shapiro, Moscow manager of the British United Press, who has just returned to the Soviet capital after a two-week inspection trip of the Stalingrad battle zone. Shapiro interviewed Red Army men of all ranks, questioned Axis prisoners and studied front-line combat maps. This dispatch—first of several on this subject, fills out the picture for the communists and tells the inside story of the siege of Stalingrad, a battle that has claimed the attention of the world for weeks.—EDITOR.

Disappearance Of Butter Is Ration Reason

"Domestic disappearance" of butter is a big factor in the Dominion butter rationing order, effective Monday, according to D. H. McCullum, Alberta dairy commissioner.

Mr. McCullum pointed out that while butter production was down only 14 per cent, for the first 11 months of this year as compared to 1941, stocks of butter on hand at Dec. 1 had dropped to 2,175,000 pounds in Alberta, as compared to 3,000,000 pounds on the corresponding date last year, a reduction of approximately 26 per cent.

"While domestic consumption is increasing, the biggest factor here is the rationing of butter," he said, "and that people have had in large amounts for the past few months. At a later date," Mr. McCullum, planned.

EXERCISE CARE
Asked whether he believed Alberta households would suffer as a result of the rationing order, Mr. McCullum said the ration of half a pound per week per person would cover requirements for 1942. The ration was increased to one pound per week per person in 1941.

This ration works out to 26 pounds a year. The average consumption of butter per person in Canada is between 32 and 33 pounds a year, the dairy commissioner reported.

Big Offensive

Rivals German Drive in July

MOSCOW, Dec. 21.—(AP)—The Red Army's middle Don offensive, its third of the winter, rolled on to the edge of the Ukraine and toward the vast coal, iron and hydroelectric regions of the Donets Basin today.
Showing no signs of slackening, the Russians moved at a pace which rivaled the last year's drive in the crisis after the winter-driven snows of the Donets Basin today.

"Going Back"

British and Indian troops have invaded Burma, striking south along the coast toward Akyab. This port on the Bay of Bengal is about halfway between Calcutta and Rangoon in the Bay of Bengal.

Whether the move is a reconnaissance raid to feel out the strength of the Jap defenses, or the opening of a drive to impel General Stilwell's "going back" promise, will appear in time, and may depend on the course of events. If the resistance is not too strong, what began as a raid may develop into a full-scale offensive. The Japs are not the kind of man to overlook an opportunity presented by enemy weakness.

Thus far the resistance is said to have been slight, the Japs abandoning even positions they had spent months in fortifying rather than fighting. When it came from where they are trying to lead the British-Indian forces into a trap between their main lines and the sea. But with plenty of air support, the invaders are likely to know the situation in detail.

With Wavell in India and Stilwell in China it could be a long time before preparation before a Burma front is opened in earnest. The time may have arrived. Tokyo seems to have suspected it and has been at hand for the raid. They have been fishing for hints on the subject with a show of considerable interest. Their curiosity will be much livelier now.

Plodding Ahead

Moscow and Berlin reports agree that the heavy fighting in the eastern front is in the Stalingrad sector and in the area west of Voronezh. Naturally the reports do not harmonize on the question of which side is getting the better of it.

It is significant that Berlin says little about the struggle on the approaches to the Volga city, where Herr Hitler promised capture and ordered his spearhead commanders to take at any price. In that blizzard-swept region the Russians claim to have surrounded 300,000 Germans who are "liquidating" in the characteristic way. The Berlin observers evidently do not think of anything it would be appropriate to say.

On the Voronezh front the Russians continue to give out daily announcements of villages captured, tanks destroyed, enemy troops killed. The Berlin explanation is that the Red advance is being met by "elastic defense methods," which it adds are "effective." Since it does not say that the Russian defense is "elastic," the effectiveness of the elastic resistance is not apparent.

What is clear is that all along the eastern front the Nazi offensive is now one of defense, furious counter-attacks being launched not to gain more territory but to hold the present lines or to make an escape a withdrawal or a retreat. The lines in the rear. That the Russians are on the attack day and night, and making some headway, Berlin does not deny.

The winter is young and the coldest weather is still to come. January and February will put a far heavier strain on the Nazi communications than the summer. The endurance of the men in improved conditions, or none. The Russians seem to have the situation in hand, with a prospect of making the most of their present conditions which they count as an ally.

Outcast

M. Laval is reported returning to Vichy from Paris a disappointed man. He expected to be called to Germany to confer with Herr Hitler, but it didn't happen. Just perhaps to save his bruised feelings, he was allowed to listen in Saturday while Hitler gave orders to Ciano.

Even if the report is true it illustrates the position to which Laval's treachery has brought him. Like Petain, he is now something less than a figurehead. Hitler does not want to see him. France is to be governed. The Fuehrer decides that for himself, and hands his power to Himmler, who may or may not communicate them to the impotent at Vichy.

When the German troops moved into unoccupied France, no cover was needed. Laval should have seen it was time for him to get out. That was the official word. The German troops moved into unoccupied France, no cover was needed. Laval should have seen it was time for him to get out. That was the official word. The German troops moved into unoccupied France, no cover was needed. Laval should have seen it was time for him to get out. That was the official word.

Except as a possible attempt to clear the way for another change of front, it is hard to see how Laval could get to Africa. He would likely enough follow the Darlan example and join the Allies. Why not? He has no future where he is.

Maritime Romance

Berlin says an alleged despatch from Tokyo saying the Japanese are going to build Chinese junk for transport ships, but it doesn't mean anything.

because they can build them fast and at little cost.

That Tokyo ever allowed such a despatch to be sent out is just about as probable as that Japan will go into the junk-building business. Tokyo is not at all likely to build the Berlin broadcaster for filling in time with idle fairy tales, because it hints broadly that the Japanese shipping situation is getting bad. That is too true for allusions from friendly sources to fill in time with idle fairy tales, because it hints broadly that the Japanese shipping situation is getting bad.

The junk is a remarkable vessel in several ways, and it serves its proper purpose very well. But for transporting troops and supplies to the front, it is not the kind of ship that the Japanese need. The Japanese need a fast, powerful, and reliable ship. The junk is a slow, unreliable, and easily captured ship. The Japanese need a fast, powerful, and reliable ship.

Japan is of course losing ships faster than there is any likelihood that they can be replaced. It may be nearing the point at which the Japanese government will be forced to consider the possibility of a Japanese navy. The Japanese government will be forced to consider the possibility of a Japanese navy.

Another mystery of the sea comes to light with the bombing of a German auxiliary ship in the North Atlantic. When it came from where it was going, and on what mission it was engaged, the authorities at Melbourne do not profess to know. And since it is now at bottom of the ocean, they don't much care.

The Rumor: That the province of Quebec influences Ottawa to choke the flow of English refugee children to Canada. The fact Ottawa emphatically denies that any such influence was exercised or even attempted. The flow of English refugee children to Canada was controlled entirely by the British authorities and the Canadian government.

The position poses a terrific problem for the Nazi leader. It is vital for him to believe that the North American is not a threat. The problem is further complicated by the situation on the Russian front where the Soviet Union is being overrun by the German forces.

Allies Attack Buna Mission

By BRYDON TAVES

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Dec. 21—Allied forces in New Guinea launched a general attack today against rapidly deteriorating enemy positions, the captured orders of the slain Japanese commander, Lt. Gen. Atomatara Horii, revealed the importance the Japanese had attached to their thwarted drive for Port Moresby.

Tanks were used by the Australian and American forces, for the first time in the New Guinea campaign, to batter down Japanese steel and concrete pillboxes, gun emplacements and machine gun positions which had withstood infantry assaults for 31 days.

Allied forces had forced a head-on line of attack around the Japanese airstrip southeast of Buna and were pushing away with mortars and machine gun fire, bombs and aerial strafing, as well as with tanks.

Don Caswell, B.U.P. writer at the front, said the general attack Sunday pushed Allied outposts in with in 3,000 yards of Buna, the Japanese air strip area. The tanks were doing in days what ground forces had been unable to do in a month.

COMMANDER KILLED
Today's communique reported that the Japanese commander in New Guinea, Gen. Horii, had been killed in action. He was a specialist in amphibious assault operations and played a prominent part in the Japanese island campaigns in the Pacific stages of the war.

Natives in New Guinea said that after he took charge he was seen frequently inspecting his lines, mounted on a white charger.

A captured order of the day, signed by Horii, apparently issued Sept. 20 when the Japanese were trying to cross the Owen Stanley mountains, for their base at Buna, read:

"You will all bear in mind how vital are the situation and character of these forces in the southwest Pacific. And how increasingly heavy are your responsibilities. You shall strengthen your morale, reinforce our vigor and having perfected our preparations for battle you shall when next you go into action, unflinchingly drive to the fighting power of our army."

SUFFER IN JUNGLE
The Japanese troops apparently suffered as much in the jungle and swamp country as have the Allied troops. Horii wrote that "No one or word can adequately depict the magnitude of the hardships suffered in the campaign."

But, he added, "we realize the enemy has not been annihilated, therefore we do firmly maintain our position in this period we can perfect organization, discipline and strength, then strike a hammer blow at the enemy stronghold of Moresby."

Dead, 8 Hurt As Cars Crash Through Ice

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

DRUMHELLER, Dec. 21—While returning to their homes at East Coulee, after completing their Christmas shopping here Saturday night, two cars crashed through the ice on the Red Deer river eighteen miles east of here, bringing death to one and leaving eight others suffering from shock and exposure.

George Burgess, barn boss of the Maple Leaf mine, is dead. His wife, who was seated next to him in the car, escaped without injury.

Mrs. William Sarsfield, wife of Sgt. William Sarsfield, who is stationed at Prince of Wales armoury in Edmonton, is in the Wayne hospital suffering from shock and minor leg injuries.

DRIVER ESCAPES
George Sarsfield, driver of the car, also escaped but the wife suffered cuts on the arm when she crashed her bare hands through the car windows in an attempt to get out of the submerged vehicle.

It is only by a stroke of fate that the four survivors did not perish. Extreme bravery and coolness on the part of Walter Poles, who was trailing the Sarsfield car, saved the four.

He saw the car disappear and then stopped his car at a safe distance. Poles and he borrowed a chain from the driver. With the chain he was able to pull the four to safety.

Mrs. William Sarsfield said that another minute would have ended her battle for survival. Her head was completely submerged in water and she was holding her breath. Poles arrived when she felt as if her lungs would burst.

The three women were taken to East Coulee by Poles, where they were treated by Dr. J. W. Watson. Citizens also aided by rushing their hot water bottles and blankets to the doctor's office.

Mrs. William Sarsfield's hair was frozen stiff and had to be shaved.

At noon Sunday the body of Burgess was recovered by Constable R. C. Morris of the R.C.M.P. This constable, aided by Constable Spoor, risked his life to effect the rescue. He built a lattice work out of trees which he threw from the river bank. Using them for support he crawled on his stomach over the broken ice with an axe.

CUT HOLE IN CAR
The axe was used to cut a hole through the roof of the sedan through which Burgess was taken out. The car was laden with Christmas presents for the children. There are two small adopted children in the Burgess home.

Shortly before the Sarsfield car crashed another driven by Wayne Pitkan of East Coulee went through the ice. He had his wife and two children with him. Being closer to shore he was able to carry his family out to safety. They were cared for in a nearby house.

An inquest will be held.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Kissing Other Boys
Disloyal To Fiancee

Nursing Is Good Substitute When Medical Course Is Impossible; Nothing Is Finer Than Taking In Homeless Child

DEAR MISS DIX: We are a group of college girls and would like to know your opinion about these three problems:

(1) A girl is engaged to a boy who is away in the army. Should she kiss the boys who take her out on dates? They mean nothing to her, she just likes to go out.

(2) How can a girl steal another girl's boy friend away from her? What are the methods used? He is a senior and the girl must be done quickly.

(3) My boy friend always tries to make me jealous. What attitude should I take?

What advice would you give us in these matters? CO-EDS.

Answer: Apparently in your educational college you are majoring in the study of boys instead of the more academic subjects. Probably that is just as well. It is quite as important for a girl to know something about modern men as it is to be versed in ancient history, and more profitable for her to be able to figure out a boy's intention than to solve a problem in geometry.

"My only boys were women's looks, and fully as all they have taught me," sang an old poet. But a college girl who is up-and-coming should be able to get a lot of useful information from the study of men.

But to answer your questions: It seems to me that a girl who is engaged to a boy who is away in the army shows very little loyalty to him if she kisses every Tom, Dick and Harry who takes her to the movies. He is away on a high and noble mission in which he is risking his life, and it can't be very comforting to him to know that she is holding petting parties with other men.

Any girl who kisses just because she likes to kiss isn't really in love with any one man. She lacks imagination and discrimination, and neither her sweetheart nor her husband can ever be sure of her.

(2) There are various and sundry ways by which a girl can steal another girl's boy friend away from her. Sometimes she can do it by telling lies on the girl. Sometimes by flattery. The boy, sometimes by sex appeal. But why do you want to do such an unethical thing? A love thief is just as dishonorable as any other sneak thief. Believe me, my child, honesty is the best policy in love affairs, as it is in business. You will find no happiness in pursuing around with a boy who has taken from another girl by nefarious tricks. It won't arouse envy in the hearts of your friends. It will fill them with contempt for you.

(3) When your boy friend tries to make you jealous, just laugh at him. Don't let him know that he has gotten a rise out of you. Be particularly friendly to the other girl, because what he is trying to do is to make you scratch out her eyes. If he thinks that you can take him or leave him, and that you don't even notice whether he comes around or not, he will be back trying to make up with you. The one thing boys can't stand in a girl is an attitude of indifference.

PRACTICAL SOLUTION

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you think parents have a right to choose a career for their children? I am a girl nearly 16 in my third year in high school. I want to be a doctor. I love medicine and at school my teachers are sick and because I am always reading medical books. My mother and father say that being a doctor is a man's job and they want me to be a secretary. But I don't want to be anything but a doctor, and I feel I have a right to decide my own career.

My parents cannot afford to send me to college, but I am willing to scrub floors to pay my way through. I hope you will understand my longing. No one else does.

Answer: I agree with you, Corinne, that you have a right to choose your own career and that there is none finer than to be a physician. But sometimes circumstances make it impossible for us to follow our heart's desire and we have to compromise with Fate.

You must know that to fit yourself to be a doctor in this modern, highly technical, specialized world it takes years of time and a small fortune. You would have to have a good normal education before you could even begin to study medicine. Then there would be years and years of grueling study, of special training, of internship in hospitals before you could hang out your shingle. Then you would have years of waiting before you could practice. And all of this would cost money. Money for books. Much money for expensive instruments. How you could afford the time and the money for all of this, I cannot imagine. No one who is so fascinated by the science of medicine and thrilled with the desire to be a healer, and the work of a hospital, why don't you give up the idea of being a doctor and study to be a trained nurse? That would give you much that you crave and bring you in touch with the great doctors under whom you would serve and from whom you would learn much of their art. It has seemed to me always that trained nurses in their white uniforms are like angels of healing, and that no girl could choose a finer profession, nor one in which she could do more good or be of more help to her fellow creatures.

aged 8 and 5. We have a nice home and are a happy, congenial family. But I want a little girl and think that we should adopt one so that we would be sure of getting a girl and not another boy, as we would if we had another child. Also, I feel that it is better to take one of the homeless children who are already here than it is to bring another child into this uncertain world.

But my husband is afraid that if we adopted a child we would never love it as we would one of our own; that we would not feel as close to it as we do to our own boys, but I am so crazy for a little girl that I feel like hugging everyone I see. How do you think we should solve our problem?

Answer: Well, at your age I think you had better give the steers a little more time, though of course, the only way you can ever be absolutely certain of getting a baby of the sex you desire is to pick out one that is already born.

Certainly, you can do nothing finer than taking a little homeless, defenseless child and giving it a mother's and father's devotion and the security of a home. So if your heart is set on having something to tie the ribbons on and dress up in frilly frocks, go to it. I don't think you need be afraid of not loving the child enough. Just the sense of a child's helplessness and dependence and its clinging little arms will bring out all that is finest and best in human nature.

Make Open House
A Patriotic Party

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Keep open house for Christmas night supper. Invite lots of friends but keep your menu patriotic—one that uses few, if any, restricted foods. But keep it good to eat, too. Here's how.

Creamed Kidneys (Serves 8)
One and one-half pounds of kidneys, 6 lbs. fat, 8 lbs. flour, 3 cups milk, 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper, hot baking powder biscuits.

Wash kidneys; remove outer membrane. Spit kidneys through center; cut out fat and tubes. Slice kidneys. Cover with cold water soak 3 hours. Melt fat in heavy skillet; add kidneys. Cook until lightly browned. Add 1 cup water cover. Simmer slowly about 1 hour or until kidneys are tender. Blend in flour; gradually add milk. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until thickened. Season with Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper. Split biscuits, serve kidney mixture on biscuit halves.

Florida Party Salad (Serves 8)
Three grapefruit, 4 oranges, 1/4 cups French dressing, 1 cup crumbled Roquefort-style cheese, 1 head lettuce or other salad greens. Shuck grapefruit and oranges by first cutting small slice from top with sharp knife. Then cut off peel in strips from top to bottom. Cut off any remaining white membrane. Cut fruit in halves by cutting along the dividing membrane from outside to middle and lifting out sections.

Combine dressing and cheese; mix with grapefruit and orange sections. Chill 15 minutes. Arrange lettuce or salad greens in bowl; top with grapefruit and orange sections.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Tangerines, country sausage, whole wheat toast, jelly, coffee or milk.

LUNCHEON: black bean soup with sliced hard cooked eggs, rice, bread, apples, tea or milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, broiled leg lamb chops, mashed potatoes, sweet and sour beets, bread puddings with currant jelly, coffee or milk.

Combine dressing and cheese; mix with grapefruit and orange sections. Chill 15 minutes. Arrange lettuce or salad greens in bowl; top with grapefruit and orange sections.

EFFECTIVE NOW

is rationed coupon

The ration is one-half pound of butter per person, per week

On and after December 21st it is unlawful to sell or buy butter at retail without the surrender of the proper coupons.

Brown Coupons, Nos. 1 to 11, "Spare C" from Ration Book No. 1 now in the hands of the public, are to be used for this purpose.

Each Brown coupon, Nos. 1 to 11, "Spare C" entitles the holder to buy one week's supply. Only Brown coupons, Nos. 1 to 11

"Spare C" can be used for the purchase of butter.

Each coupon becomes good on a definite date and expires on a definite date . . . and can be used only within its prescribed period as given below.

The system for butter is different from that applying to Tea, Coffee and Sugar, where coupons have no specified expiry date.

Dates When Butter Coupons Become Usable—and Expire

Coupon Number	Good for Purchase beginning on	Not Good for Purchase After
1	December 21	January 3
2	December 28	January 3
3 and 4	January 4	January 17
5 and 6	January 18	January 31
7 and 8	February 1	February 14
9 and 10	February 15	February 28
11	March 1	March 14

NOTE: Brown Coupon No. 2, "Spare C" will be good for use only during a 7-day period—December 28 to January 3. Brown Coupons Nos. 1, and 3 to 11, "Spare C", can be used within 2-week periods.

Coupons for butter, like those for Sugar, Coffee and Tea (the red and green coupons) must be detached by, or in the presence of any seller of butter or his employee. If desired, consumers may lodge their butter coupon sheets with their retailers, so that the latter may detach the required coupons when delivering.

Temporary Ration Cards

All Brown Coupons on Temporary Ration Cards issued to members of the armed forces on leave, visitors to Canada, etc., are good after December 21.

Butter Holdings Exceeding More Than One Pound per Person Must Be Reported and Coupons Surrendered

Consumers or non-registered boarding houses buying in their possession the equivalent of more than one pound of butter for each person in the household, must before January 3, 1943, report their holdings to the nearest office of this Board. They must forward with their reports the number of butter coupons representing their butter holdings. If the quantity of butter in possession of such persons represents more than the eleven Brown coupons in Ration Book No. 1, which will be good for butter, they must in their reports undertake to detach from future ration books, additional butter coupons equal to the remainder of the surplus.

Special Notice To Retailers

On and after December 28, retailers must establish their right to purchase new supplies of butter from their suppliers by turning over to the supplier currently valid ration coupons equivalent to the poundage of butter ordered from the suppliers. A Bulletin giving instructions to retailers has been mailed to reach you today. Please watch for it.

The Spirit of Giving...

Christmas

There's a different pattern to our giving; this war-line Christmas. Gone is the lavish bestowal of all sorts of frivolous trappings—lovely to have, perhaps, but not essential. There'll be toys for the children, still—for what's a Christmas for if not to bring delight into childish hearts, wonder into childish eyes? There'll be practical gifts for the family—gifts that gain new grace in the giving. And there will be one or two little luxuries, of course, that mean self-sacrifice on the part of the giver.

But over and above all these, is the supreme gift of the year—War Savings Stamps and Certificates. Give them that Peace may come again soon—Peace with Victory. Give them that loved ones may be with us again. Give them that our children may always know the joys of a happy Christmas!

War Savings Stamps are available at our Post Office!
